daily worship

This Leadership Development Module (LDM) will be of interest to:

- all candidates preparing for ministry (the course can be transferred into an MDiv program)
- those wanting to learn in and about a diaconal ethos
- ministry staff wanting to strengthen practical skills for ministry
- UCC admissions candidates fulfilling the requirement for a Christian Education credit
- lay leaders seeking leadership training and spiritual development
- anyone wanting a safe place to discern God's call

Students participate as co-learners and co-leaders

The Leadership Development Module

- is an excellent continuing education opportunity
- can be taken for Masters credit through the University of Winnipeg

The LDM is the annually held introductory module in the CCS 4 year diploma program in Diaconal Ministries and one year certificates in Pastoral Care Ministry, Social Ministry, or Educational Ministry.

See the CCS website for more information ccsonline.ca, or call to explore the possibilities for you!

Some bursary support is available, with a special fund for Anglican students. Please inquire.

James Ravenscroft, wondered what he would learn at the LDM. He has a seminary theological education and broad experience in ministry. He says, "I learned about myself. I gave a presentation to the group and the feedback amazed me. What they saw was a person who dominated the procedure in the style of traditional male power. What I had always thought was that I was an oppressed person. Suddenly I saw myself as others see me. It was an "aha" moment! that will forever change the way I do ministry".

Facilitation Team

CCS Program staff
Sherri McConnell and Ted Dodd

are skilled facilitators who gently mentor and encourage students into their fullest potential. Diaconal Ministers in the United Church, they bring passion for ministries that liberate and empower. Their combined experience includes pastoral ministry, counseling, interim ministry, denominational staff and program design and implementation. Other resource people bring even wider experience to the learning environment.
